

President's Fishing Report
1/12/11

The ice-fishing season is starting to get under way. Just recently I have had some pretty good days fishing for bluegills at East Harbor State Park. The ice is about 6 to 8 inches thick. I have also caught some crappies and an occasional nice perch. My last trip I finally noticed some Northern Pike swimming under my holes. I will update the ice conditions and fishing report after this coming weekend. GO STEELERS !!!!
